

Just Finish Your Damn Project

WITH LISA J. MACDONALD

- Do you want to get off the work hamster wheel and start seeing results for your effort?
- Is flow in your work production eluding you?
- Tired of not knowing which direction to go and not confident in the right next step?

The problem for many business owners and entrepreneurs in the current business environment is consistently shifting. It is easy to become reactive to all political, civic, and economic unrest. This will suck away your confidence and drain your momentum. Without the combination of creativity, grit, and productivity, it is impossible to find the flow necessary to create the products that will give the results you are looking for to harness the possibility in your business.

ACTIVITY	FOCUS	PRODUCTIVITY
RESULTS	ALIGNMENT	100%
MOMENTUM	SYSTEMS	80%
PROGRESS	ROUTINES	50%
MOTION	ENVIRONMENT	10%
STAGNANT	BOTTLENECK	-5%

Often vital factors are missing from your work:

1. Not having a clear idea of where you are getting stuck and how to move through the bottleneck
2. A disorganized, vague plan on how you are going to compel their business forward
3. A lack of structure implementing the consistent action to make sure that your most important objectives are being accomplished
4. An internal tug-of-war to stay motivated
5. Giving up on a methodology too soon
6. Lack of structure to keep you producing and moving forward when you hit the mid-project slump

Just Finish Your Damn Project Can Help You and Your Team:

1. Identify the most important project to sustain your business
2. Systemically secure the foundation of your business in a way that honors your unique way of being in the world
3. Develop a supportive ritual that will keep you at your best performance, so you continuously make progress

Stagnant: The first step is to identify all the places you are stagnant in your business and drill down on what is causing you not to be getting the results you are aiming for.

Motion: Is your environment as supportive as it can be? Is it 100% inspiring both mentally, physically, and emotionally? Do you have incomplete projects that are draining your energy?

Progress: Do you have a refined system and routines in place to keep you operating at your highest level? Are you recharging yourself enough to maintain continuous momentum?

Momentum: Are all your systems running smoothly, or are you finding yourself on the hunt to find the misplaced information? Are there some tasks that are continually dragging your speed or production?

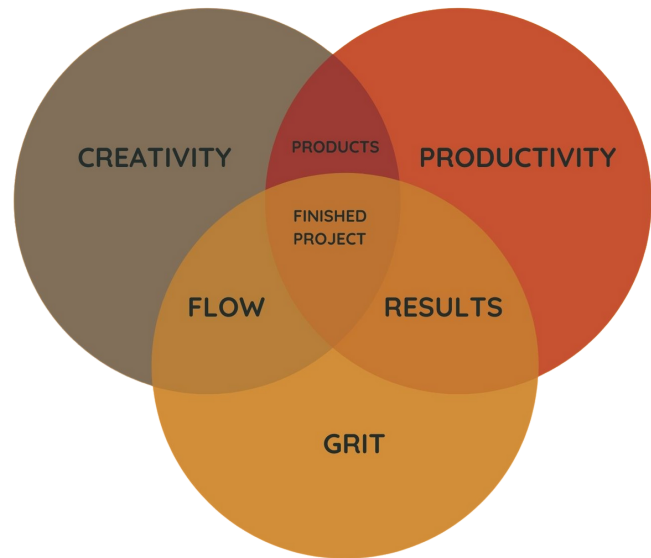

Results: At this level, you're thinking about your business strategy and how you can leverage the positive results to upscale your impact in the marketplace. How can you reach more people?
